Joint Chiefs Of Staff To Confer With MacArthur

Coming Far Eastern Parley May Bring Some Plan To Aid China

FORMOSA CENTER OF ISSUE, BELIEF

By JOHN A. REICHMANN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. -The forthcoming far eastern parley between the joint chiefs of staff and Gen. Douglas MacArthur underscored reports that the U.S. may try to help Nationalist China hold Formosa. The military leaders, headed by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, will go to Tokyo in February to receive Mac-Arthur's personal report on the situation in Korea, Formosa and the Philippines.

They will not visit these areas although they will inspect installations in Hawaii en route to Japan. Joining Bradley will be Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Adm. Forrest P. Sherman and Gen. Hoyt S. Van-

By JOHN BOOTH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. -Washington labor experts believe John L. Lewis may switch to a more persuasive strategy than the three-day work week in his drawn-out contract battle with major coal operators. High level observers of the United Mine Workers' all-out offensive for higher wages and big-ger welfare fund contributions see these reasons for a sudden, un-heralded change of tactics on Lewis' part:

See Cause For Change 1. About 40 per cent of the coal producers are asking the govern-ment for an injunction that would outlaw the short work period on the grounds that Lewis has violated the Taft-Hartley law.

2. After Jan. 1, Lewis will see a small portion of his followers drawing the demanded benefits from soft coal producers who have made "peace," while the bulk of the union will still be working under the unsatisfactory old contract.

3. The slowdown imposed more than a month ago, has gained nothing for Lewis.

The injunction demand, initiated two days ago by the Southern Coal Producers Association was joined yesterday by Northern and Western operators, who mine two-thirds of the nation's coal

New Castle has just finished an excellent year in spite of secondary effects of the steel strike and coal curtailment. "Thus, instead of making a broad statement and trying to back it up we can build up a logical estimate of conditions based upon tangible evidence right here in New Castle." Wacht-man declared. "With all the evidence in, and the national factors steadied by the approach of an important election year, it seems to forecast something like equipment to meet emergencies.

"Employment and spendable income in the New Castle area in 1950 should be equal to 1949 and probably a shade better because of the tremendous construction

One of Healthy Signs

One of the healthy signs, it eems to me, is the controversy developing over the growing prac-tice of inflicting canned music and canned advertisements on those who ride buses and streetcars or wait in railway stations. There are real signs of rebellion at being made to listen to sounds one does not want to hear while confined in a space that one must occupy in getting about from place to place.

Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher and scientist, in his book, "Authority and the Individhas put the whole issue in sharp focus. It is a stimulative and provocative study of the question that looms large at this midway mark of the twentieth century.

To ignore it will certainly not solve it. Nor is there a pat and parrotlike answer. Only soul-searching of the kind we seem reluctant to do is likely to show the way to future in which reasonable freedom and reasonable security are properly balanced.

New Year's "Backslide"

Well, I do not know what your plans are for New Year's Day when all mankind and you and I in particular are supposed to take stock of itself and ourselves and come to some noble decisions, but I for one am seriously considering turning over an old leaf and resuming for a change some of my past and bygone vices and habits which one by one, as the years progressed. I abandoned in obedience to the popular legend that one begins the New Year by pledging reforms. It is about time, for, over a period of years (more than I care to contemplate) through a succession of New Year's pledges following one upon the other as regularly as Indians proceeding in single file, I have gradually sloughed off nearly all human failings and now begin to approach so close to perfection that the angels must be contemplating me earnestly with a view to snatching me to their seraphic fellowship. am not yet ready to make the trip but so many are my virtues by now that I do not care to run the risk of not being consulted by the Heavenly host, and so I think that 1950, or the half century mark. is a good time for me to begin a little back-sliding.

Will Again Put Off Doing It

To begin with, I think from now on I will again put off until tomorrow that which I might do today. For it isn't even clear any longer that non-procrastination is a virtue. The modern view of the matter seems to be that if you do today what you ought to do why then you will be out of a job tomorrow, and the wise man will feather bed, or spread it out a little.

I will also contemplate abandoning punctuality. It was way back in 1926, or thereabouts, that I made the good resolution never again to be late with my copy and to write it well in advance. Goodness knows how many editors I have ruined and consigned to a drunkard's grave with this sop to Ben Franklin, or whoever it was made a thing about being right on time and a stitch in time saving nine, and all that sort of rot. For look you, an editor ought to be at his desk worrying over the non-arrival of the article expected from Jones or Smith and planning what he will do to fill in the awkward space thus left. But with Gallico, that paragon of all the virtues, depositing his little essays on his doorstep weeks in advance he finds leisure time on his hands. A friend suggests they drop in at Hennessy's place and have one. There is nothing to keep him from accepting the invitation. And one leads to another. You know how it is. I'll soon put a stop to that.

More Modern Reformation

To take a more modern reformation, 1949 saw me give up smoking and with heroic fortitude maintain a non-smoking status throughout the year. Result, the cigarette burns no longer appear on the surface of the family Hepplewhite, Chippendale and Sheraton; no more holes seared in the best sack suit; no more cigar ashes on the carpet; goodbye to tobacco stains on the fingers and tonsils; no more do my array of blackened pipes offend the nostrils. But what has this noble sacrifice brought me? The truth is that my wife loves me not one whit more. The truth is that my wife loves me not one whit more.

brought me? The truth is that my wife loves me not one whit more, nor any less than she did before.

I think that maybe today I will have a big, fat, black seegar, and also double the portions of spirits consumed in the before-dinner cocktails. Since I quit drinking dry martinis I have become something of a social pet. Hostesses love me. This had led to a succession of incredibly boring evenings. During the good old fruitful period of three martinis before dinner, I had insulted my hostess by nine o'clock and was never asked again. Back on martinis I so tomorrow. was never asked again. Back on martinis I go tomorrow.

Let Up On Dieting Too

Five or six years ago I gave up gluttony and slimmed down from 235 to a respectable 195 pounds. The benefits from this, as from all of my reforms, have been easy to mark, but alas, if man's span is but three score years and ten, my allotment, at least that portion of it where I shall have mine own crockery in my head and a reasonable digestive system, is drawing to a close. I think there is another old leaf to which I shall soon be giving a flip. Mmmmmm, yummy. Bread and butter again, sugar in my tea, spaghetti with meat balls AND an ice cream soda whenever I want one.

Early to bed and early to rise, eh? I've enjoyed fair health, but I've never been wealthy and my best friend wouldn't care to give me a send-in on my wisdom. That's only batting 333 in the Healthy, Wealthy and Wise League. Those aren't pay-off averages. From now on. I go to bed late and don't get up until . . . well, don't call me before noon, that's all. There isn't space left here to tabulate all the virtues I intend to reverse this day, but just running over them sketchily in my mind I can see where they would fill a couple of pages. I think I caught myself just in itme. I've been noticing an itch and two little knobs just over my shoulder blades as though something wanted to break through, sprout and grow. It would have been a lonely life to walk as an angel here on earth. You, my dear friend, are cordially invited to accompany me on this nostalgic backslide, or Iniquity Revisited.

The CHURCHES of CHRIST SALUTE YOU Rom. 16:16

Why call ye me Lord, Lord and do not the things that I say?

There are several things necessary in order to become a member, a part, of the body of Christ. One step is just as important as the other. These steps are hearing, believing, repenting, confessing and being baptized in water. No one ever obeyed the Lord unless they first understood what HE wanted them to do. Faith comes by hearing His word, Rom. 10:17. After one hears the gospel, then they must believe it, they have faith in it, and be willing to obey it. Just to believe is not enough, the devils believe and tremble Jas. 2:19. After a person believes they must turn away from their wickedness, that is repent, before the next step of confessing Jesus as the Son of God before men can properly take place. Following a confession of Christ, not of your sins, a person must be baptized, immersed in water to get into the body of Christ Gal. 3:27. More comment will be given each in future articles

Operation 'Tot' Gets More Toys

Gaston Post Expects To Send Large Consignment To Swell National Total

TO PROVIDE TOYS FOR TOTS ABROAD State Police To Use

"Operation Tot," a project sponsored by the National American Legion to provide toys for the needy children of Western Europe, is getting into full stride, General Chairman Alfred E. Walker of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, announced today.

Another large consignment of toys was brought in by C. R. Allen of East Washington street, which are wooden toys made by him duration of the state police will be just that during the New Year's week end. State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm said "our men will be a wooden toys made by him duration." of Last Washington street, which are wooden toys made by him during the war period, when other kinds of toys were scarce. There kinds of toys were scarce. There during the coming holiday in orwere around 50 toys in the conder to protect careful motorists

Others Contributing

Others are making contributions to this worthy effort, and it is ing and driving mix.' expected that the Legion posts diminish in voulme at a high altifrom all over the country who are tude, due to the rarified air.

ONE MAY AS WELL kiss 1949 goodbye. It was a banner year for Pennsylvania's more than a million and a helf ing back 1949 provided increased fishing and hunting fees, a decrease in hunting accidents and deaths by gunshot, a seemingly better understanding of the deer problem, but an unwanted increase in game and fish code violations. In fact, almost the entire outdoor program has shown some development, according to Carl Rogan, I.N.S. Sports

Several days ago the game commission said it will begin remodeling the Ross Leffler school of Conservation at Brockway. The cost was not stated. A bigger wildlife stocking program is in store for hunters.

Farmers will be paid $1 for each cottontail trapped and released for the hunting season. The state's turkey raising method has been given acclaim and the artificial game feeding by the Aero Game Feeding club at Karthaus, Pa., has been increased. The state legislature has won approval for passing the nofishing-one-month-before-trout season law. This means sucker fishing will be banned in trout-stocked waters.

There is hope for more artificial stated-owned lakes like Raccoon

A law deemed necessary by some sportsmen, failed to pass the legislature. It would have made it illegal for nimrods to hunt with 'safeties" off. This, without question, could have eliminated many accidents and deaths.

Wrestling, conducted under amateur, collegiate and Olympic regulations, is perhaps the most effective known conditioner and developer of the human body, despite its ancient origin, according to Harry MacNamara, of the I. For Brooklyn Woman Who Killed Husband

FRANKFURT, Dec. 24.—(INS) -An insantiy plea was entered Friday for Mrs. Yvette Madsen. raven-haired Brooklyn beauty accused of murdering her air force husband last October.

Her attorney, Elmo Gower, of Cumberland, Md., entered a motion in the U.S. district court in Frankfurt asking for a "commitment of mental examination." The motion added:

"This hereby alleges accused is insane and it is averred that the sanity of the accused will be made the issue in this case." The case of the 22-year-old mother of two children probably will be heard late next month. The dark-eyed woman whose father, Alfred Noack, lives in Brooklyn, was charged with killing her husband, Lt. Andrew E. Madsen, of Oakland, Calif., early the morning of October 20 after she reportedly quarrelled at a party they both had Madsen, a former Berlin air lift pilot, was shot and killed with a .45 service pistol in the living room of his home just after entering the house. His wife had preceded him home from the party at the home of friends in a Frankfurt suburb.

GREETINGS PRINGING YOU THE GREETINGS OF THE SEASON, AND WISHING YOU MUCH HAPPINESS IN THE NEW YEAR CORNER WILMINGTON AND CLENMORE

- NEW CASTLE, PA., NEWS, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1949. — New Castle Racks Up Fourth Win By Downing Vandergrift 48-43

Don Reed Again Leading Scorer

Big New Castle Center Has 28 Points, Ford City High Here Tuesday

New Castle High basketball team made it three in a row last by downing Vandergrift High at Washington High gym, 48 to 43, before the smallest crowd of the year. It was the fourth win of the pre-league season for the "Gig" Thomas coached machine.

Big Don Reed again was the scintillating star with 28 of the 48 points on 10 field goals and 8 fouls. Reed had more points than all the other New Castle players combined. Mastrocinque and Rowe led the visitors in the scoring column, with 27 between them.

Locals Trail At Quarter New Castle High trailed at the end of the first period, 9 to 8, after leading with five minutes gone by a score of 4 to 2. New Castle's first field goal came after six minutes of play-Chuck Mc-Devitt scoring it. Reed sank a twopointere just before the period ended making two field goals for the first eight minutes of play. Vandergrift had four field goals, the first period.

Both teams used a fine defense in the opening session. New Castle Leads At Half

The end of the first half found New Castle leading 24 to 21, after the "Vandies" had held the lead through most of the stanza, Reed finally putting New Castle in front 19 to 17, with a field goal.

Reed had 15 of the New Castle points the first half, Sansone four, Lewis two, McDevitt two and Latsko one. The big guns for Vandergrift the first half were Mastrocinque and Rowe.

Never Give Up Lead

New Castle never gave up the lead through the third and fourth periods-the third session ended 38 to 29, the biggest advantage that New Castle had enjoyed to this time. The 'Canes scored the invaders 14 to 8 for the third

Joe Louis Becomes Champion Joe Louis the Brown Bomber, became the World's Heavyweight Champion in Chicago, the 'Windy - City," in June 1937, when he defeated James J. Braddock in a scribed as a classic example of down the stout oak frame and heart of James Braddock bit by bit until the climax came with one last mighty right hand swing

That powerful right landed with a sickening thud, and knocked Braddock down like a wooden Indian. There was not a sign of movement as Braddock lay on his side, his face badly battered. It was all over but the counting and Joe Louis, confident that the crown was his, moved quickly to a neutral corner and stared down at the timekeeper pounding out the count with his hammer on the ring apron. A new champ was born that night but the old one had fought a brave aggressive battle from start to finish and as the fans cheered Joe Louis wildly, they also paid tribute to the fallen ex-champ.
